Piedmont Presbyterian Church, Piedmont, WV

The Lord be with you!

How time flies! Snow is in the air, but in two short weeks the season of Lent will start. Then comes Easter. Then, oh my, it's Spring! Warm weather. Sunshine. Flowers. Community gardens. Graduation! Maybe I'm getting ahead of myself.

In Lent we die to our old selves so we can be raised to new life in Jesus Christ. There is a tradition among some people of giving up something for Lent, a deprivation of some pleasure or comfort. On Ash Wednesday we put ashes on our foreheads as a reminder of our mortality and finiteness. The rest of the season, however, is spent in preparing for resurrection. It is examining and reaffirming who we are and whose we are and always will be. So, rather than setting aside something of ourselves might it be more appropriate to take on something of Christ?

Walk alongside another person for a moment, for a day, for a season, or for a lifetime. Listen and be present with them in their joys and fears, happiness and sorrows, strengths and weaknesses, successes and failures, life and death. Offer a word of encouragement, hope, gratitude, or perhaps careful admonition, not because you're above their circumstances but because you can point to Christ as the source of all joy and strength and life.

Speak a prophetic word of truth into a broken and sinful world. We can all do this even when we're broken and sinful ourselves because it isn't about us, it's about God, and it isn't our words, it's God's word. Throughout our culture and society there are those who pander to our fears. There are those who manipulate us through our fears. But look at Psalm 46, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble, therefore we will not fear..."

Make room for the other person. When we are not fearful even in the face of fearsome things, life becomes joyful. Life becomes life in Christ and whole new possibilities of agape are opened to us (see 1 Cor. 13). When we make room for even the most "other" of persons in our lives and in our community we acknowledge that Christ, the Lord of all, is already there among them in their lives and in their community. Who knows? Perhaps, one day you may be the one to point Christ out to them and bring healing to one little corner of our world.

May God's blessings be with you all in this bleak mid-winter as resurrection's promise awaits.

Tom

News & Notes

Thank you very much to Debbie Scheermesser for her work on The Gleaner for so long and for continuing to do our bulletins each week and keeping our directory up to date. Your hard work and dedication is much appreciated!

The Gleaner will be distributed quarterly. If you have dates or information that you would like included in the next issue or suggestions for what should be included in The Gleaner, please get it to Laurie and Evie Groves by March 15.

Check out our website! www.piedmontpresby.org.

It has a wealth of information from an event calendar to live streaming of our services each week. Past events including our annual Christmas concerts, Children's events, past Gleaners, and sermons are also archived so you can watch them all year long. Thank you so Shawn Groves for all the work he does each week on the website. Thanks for using your gifts and talents for our church! We're also adding a section to the website with links to the Revised Common Lectionary that we use each Sunday. You can click a link and go right to the Bible passages online. This will be added as a button on the left side of the front page of the website and linked on our church calendar under the Church Events button.

Thank you so much to Elder Lori Evans, Elder Jeanne Thrasher, and Rev. Harry Coleman for filling the pulpit during January while Tom has been away at school. Thank you so much for leading us in worship!

Our community garden is still a work in progress. We have some interested community groups including the food pantry and Girl Scouts who are planning to participate in gardening. More information will follow!

YOUTH SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Our youth use "Growing in Grace and Gratitude" from the Presbyterian Church as well as seasonal lessons such as Lent and Easter. Each lesson is rooted in Bible Stories that reveal God's grace.

The Youth Sunday School will be performing during Children's Time on Palm Sunday with Music and Songs, Easter Sunday with a Puppet Skit, and Mother's Day with a special performance on May 8.

Teachers are Francy Becker, Cindy Scheermesser, and Jeanne Thrasher.

Please let Laurie know of any prayer requests to be added to or removed from the next Gleaner. It will be distributed at the end of March. Thank you!

If you're not already worshipping with us in person, please stop by. We'd love to celebrate with you, pray with you, and welcome you. You can always join us online at www.piedmontpresby.org. Sermons are streamed live each Sunday starting at about 11:00 A.M.

"Even now," declares the Lord, "return to me with all your heart, with fasting and weeping and mourning. Rend your heart and not your garments. Return to the Lord your God, for he is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger and abounding in love, and he relents from sending calamity." Joel 2: 12-13

"How Could You Say No"
Julie Miller

Thorns on his head, spear in his side
Yet it was a heartache that made him cry.
He gave his life so you would understand.
Is there any way you could say no to this man?

If Christ himself were standing here,
Face full of glory and eyes full of tears,
And he held out his arms and his nail printed hands -
Is there any way you could say no to this man?

How could you look in his tear stained eyes
Knowing it's you he's thinking of?
Could you tell him you're not ready
to give him your life?
Could you say you don't think you need his love?
Jesus is here with his arms open wide.
You can see him with your heart
if you'll stop looking with your eyes.
He's left it up to you; he's done all that he can.
Is there any way you could say no to this man?

How could you look in his tear stained eyes
Knowing it's you he's thinking of?
Could you tell him you're not ready
to give him your life?
Could you say you don't think you need his love?
Thorns on his head, your life is in his hands.
Is there any way you could say no to this man?
Is there any way you could say no to this man?
